

LAST CROCHERON NOT TURNED OUT

Old Lady, Descendant of Proud House, Saved from Eviction.

CHURCH WILL WAIT.

Mrs. Morehouse Seeks Capital to Finance Valuable Family Estate.

While aged and helpless Miss Marie Elizabeth Crocheron, last scion of one of the proudest and wealthiest families of Staten Island, was preparing to be ejected by the sheriff from the home of her ancestors last week help came in an unexpected manner. She was saved, at least temporarily, from the hardships she would have suffered, and St. Andrew's Episcopal Church can still look itself in the face.

Mrs. C. L. Morehouse, of No. 323 West Thirtieth street, Manhattan, helped the old lady pack her belongings and prepare for the eviction which seemed inevitable. The sheriff had said that he would come at 11 o'clock and put her goods out of the house. She had no place to go, and the great evil that stands before the door, planted there by United States Supreme Court Justice Crocheron nearly a hundred years ago, was destined, it seemed, to be the only shelter for the last of his descendants with her parent, her two faithful dogs her old, half-blind servant and all the household goods so dear to her proud old heart.

Church Consented to Wait.

As daylight came Mrs. Morehouse was on the road. It was a long walk to Richmond, but she went there and saw the lawyer for the church.

He agreed to allow the old lady to occupy the house, for a time at least, while an attempt is made to get some one to take a part of the acreage for the debt due the church, or to finance the estate and put it in shape to pay itself out.

Miss "Mary Lib," as she is known, is too infirm to attend to this herself.

"When she was able to get around she found a purchaser for part of the land for $30,000," said Mrs. Morehouse to-day. "This would have paid off the debt of the church, with charges and interest, and more than $13,000 would have been left for the old lady, besides the best part of the land and the house; but the minister felt at the time that he could not defer his vacation to await the preparation of papers releasing the land, and the deal fell through."

Shortly after that time Miss Crocheron had a fall which made her lame, and for the rest of her life she will have to hobble around on crutches, and even this is very painful to her. A trip as far as Manhattan would be an impossibility in her state of health, and she is compelled to depend upon the kindness of her friend, who is herself not wealthy, and who was a stranger until a short time ago the probable condition of the old aristocrat was brought to public attention by the impending eviction.

LIVES WITH SMALL PART OF STOMACH.

Cunningham Sacrificed Three-Quarters of Digestive Organs in Operations.

Robbed of three-quarters of his stomach by the surgeons of the J. Hood Wright Hospital in a faint effort to save his life, which was threatened by cancer, Thomas Cunningham, of No. 571 West One Hundred and Third street, is facing life once more.

To maintain life he will have to eat about eight meals a day, as his reduced stomach will not be able to accommodate more than a very small amount of food at one time.

Before the operation he was warned by Dr. Lucius Hotchkiss that he had but two chances in one hundred to survive the operation, but without it he would possibly live another two or three months. Cunningham was willing to take the two chances. Yesterday he was discharged as cured.

ARRESTED CHAUFFEUR FREE.

Charged with Oversteering and Threatening a Policeman.

Nathan T. Champion, chauffeur for W. W. Sherman, of No. 58 Fifth avenue, was arrested to-day before Magistrate Baker in the West Side Court charged by motor-cycle policeman Mallon with oversteering on Broadway near Sixty-second street yesterday afternoon, and also with threatening him with a hammer when he placed the chauffeur under arrest.

Champion was held in the West Side station, charged yesterday with driving an automobile on Broadway near Sixty-second street yesterday afternoon, and also with threatening him with a hammer when he placed the chauffeur under arrest.

It was proved that Mallon was running his motor-cycle twenty-five miles an hour before he made the arrest.

FOR THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

Fine Assortment of Furniture at Jordan, Morley & Co.'s.

Enterprise, artistic taste and endless variety are in evidence on every floor of the big Jordan, Morley & Co. furniture establishment, No. 125 East Twenty-third street, these pre-holiday times. It would be difficult to find anywhere in New York to find a more complete or varied collection of the finest work of the cabinet and furniture makers' skill.

Beautiful chiffoniers, bedroom suits, parlor suits, done in finest woods and rarest carvings; dainty dressing tables, a delight to the eye; sideboards and buffets built along slender and massive lines in dark, rich mahogany, curly birch or bird's-eye maple; china cabinets of richest and most elaborate design, hand-painted, music cabinets, pianos and musical mirrors of latest pattern abound on every floor in Jordan, Morley & Co.'s shopping place.

For the fall and holiday trade this popular firm has exercised every forethought in getting together in its great storehouse quite an incomparable collection of furniture of every character and for every want. Every accessory for the household is there, commensurate with the demands on the modest as well as the millionaire's pocketbook.

SLEW BRIDE AND HIMSELF.

Jealous Husband of Three Months Murderer and Suicide.

LATROBE, Pa., Nov. 27.—Goaded by jealousy, Steven Cintel killed his wife and then himself at their home in Dorothy, a little mining village, last night. The two were married three months ago. Cintel was twenty-three and his wife, a widow of six months, was twenty-six. The husband was insanely jealous of a butcher of Allegheny, and had threatened to kill him. Shots were heard, and neighbors rushed to the house. The bodies of Cintel and his wife were found lying on the floor. The man had sent three bullets into his own breast after shooting his wife through the right lung.

Heat Costs Nothing

when you use the "Heat Light" GAS-JET GENERATOR

The GENERATOR concentrates and intensifies the waste heat of your gas burner. By a scientific principle of construction the heat is sent to the floor instead of the ceiling. The illuminating power of the gas is increased by the GENERATOR—instead of being diminished—increased 50 per cent. No a foot more gas is consumed for heat and light. Can be attached to any burner. A child can use it. Sent postpaid for $1.00. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Write for descriptive pamphlet. Agents wanted. W. M. CRANE & CO., Room 8, 1131-33 Broadway, N. Y.
